Shell joins UTA Edenred's acceptance network in the United Kingdom

- Over 500 Shell service stations have been added to UTA Edenred's country-wide network
- Agreement represents another milestone in the longstanding partnership between UTA Edenred and Shell

Kleinostheim, Germany – UTA Edenred, a leading mobility service provider in Europe and an Edenred company, has expanded its partnership with EuroShell Cards B.V. (Shell) with the addition of over 500 Shell service stations to its acceptance network in the United Kingdom. UTA customers can now purchase diesel, petrol and AdBlue with UTA Cards at these stations.

In total, UTA customers can now access more than 1,660 fuel stations in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. Alongside Shell, UTA Edenred's UK acceptance network includes all BP stations plus 60 Circle K filling stations in Northern Ireland.

Lukas Schneider, Commercial Director EMEA at UTA Edenred, says: "Shell is one of our most progressive acceptance partners. We've been working with them successfully for years. The launch of UTA acceptance at Shell in the UK is another milestone in the development of our European fuel network and delivers yet more value for our customers."

Jérôme Reinecke, Head of Roaming and Pricing Europe at Shell, says: "Shell and UTA Edenred have a long-standing successful collaboration across a range of European markets. We are pleased to welcome UTA Edenred's customers to Shell stations in the UK and offer them our wide range of quality products and services."

UTA Card holders enjoy access to more than 87,000 acceptance points in 40 European countries. In addition to conventional and alternative fuels such as biodiesel, LNG, CNG as well as a vast HVO100 network, UTA customers can leverage services such as toll processing, workshop and cleaning, secure car parks, combined transport services and more. UTA eCharge®, meanwhile, is a 360° e-mobility service covering all charging scenarios and vehicle types, which is gradually being rolled out across Europe.
