

We develop products and services that make many things easier. And you?

UTA Edenred ensures professional mobility throughout Europe. It is important to us that you want to make a difference! We are looking for a full-time position as of now:

Product Manager (all genders)

Your responsibilities:

- You develop the strategic product vision for the Mobility area and design a roadmap linking existing products with digital solutions
- You bring teams and stakeholders together, promote collaboration, and drive decisions
- In coordination with specialist departments and your team, you prioritize and implement topics – from idea to go-live
- You take ownership of the full product lifecycle and align strategic goals with operational needs
- With a clear view of trends, customer feedback, and business objectives, you enhance products and support migrating key processes to a new digital platform

Your profile:

- You have a degree in industrial engineering, business informatics, business administration, or a comparable field
- With experience in product or strategic project management, you bring a strong sense for product development in tech-driven environments
- You think strategically, structure complex topics clearly, and unite different interests behind shared goals
- You're hands-on, take ownership for implementation and results, and reliably lead projects through to completion
- Fluent German and English skills come naturally to you
